

Adam Mosey
Director of Aging Policy

Adam Mosey is the Director of Aging Policy for Advancing States (formerly NASUAD), which represents the 56 state and territorial agencies on aging and disabilities. In his role, he leads the Association's training and technical assistance for State Unit on Aging (SUA) directors and conducts policy and legislative analyses. Prior to rejoining the Association, Mr. Mosey was a Policy Analyst at the National Governors Association (NGA) Center for Best Practices, Health Division, where he worked on infectious disease, Medicaid evaluation, long-term services supports, and dual eligibles.

From 2015 – 2018 Mr. Mosey served as a Policy Analyst, and then Senior Policy Analyst, at the National Association of States United for Aging and Disabilities (NASUAD). He also currently serves in the Army National Guard. He holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science and German from Goucher College in Baltimore, MD, and a Master's degree in Policy, Planning, and Management (MPPM) from the Muskie School of Public Service within the University of Southern Maine (USM).
