

Curriculum for Empowering Self-Advocates

Volume 3 Chapter 6

Other Issues to Cover

Purpose:

This section is for the Facilitator's use, to record other topics the participants would like to address and to develop and document lesson plans and activities.

Feedback should be solicited from the participants throughout the Empowering Self-Advocates course. This feedback process helps the Facilitator to identify whether the participants' training needs and preferences are being met as the course progresses. It allows the Facilitator to reinforce topics already covered, if needed, and to present additional topics in response to the participants.

Some topics of possible interest are:

- Using community resources
- Getting supports in generic (non-disability related) community settings
- Making your health care wishes known
- Handling stressful situations
- Getting along with co-workers and neighbors
- Living well on a budget
- Making friends
- Having leisure interests and hobbies
